2020 Census Self-Response Weekly Highlights

Mobile United Host “Let’s Talk Census” Forum

Mobile United hosted a Let’s Talk Census forum to continue the momentum of reaching a complete count in Mobile County. Christenne Gibson, Director of Mobile United, moderated the virtual event, and featured speakers were Shemika Brown, U.S. Census Bureau, Mobile Mayor Sandy Stimpson, County Commissioner Merceria Ludgood, and Pastor Micah Gaston of 3 Circle Church. More than 40 people participated in the event.

“Count Em Up” is the Theme in Dallas and Perry Counties

Census Partnership Specialist Collins Pettaway used his creative energy to encourage households in Dallas and Perry counties to self-respond to the 2020 Census. Count Em Up, is a fun video created to generate excitement. More than 100 census partners use the video, which has received more than 3000 social media views. Collins was also selected to be a judge for the “Get Out The Count” national video challenge that will promote participation in the 2020 Census.

Ignite Alabama is Turning Up the Heat to Complete the 2020 Census

Ignite Alabama is an active supporter of the 2020 Census. They have conducted outreach awareness for the 2020 Census with a table and a question and answer session at every event they have. They have also had a virtual “Be Counted” social media party live via Zoom and Facebook.

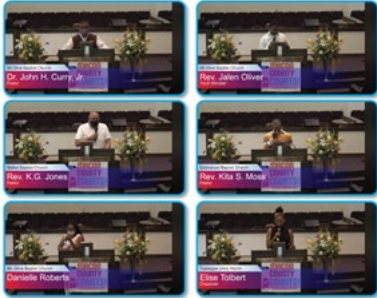

Pick Your Favorite Color!

The City of Asheville is choosing strategic locations to remind residents to self-respond to the 2020 Census. According to Chrystal St. John, City Clerk, a rainbow of candy Census themed lollipops were placed in the City Hall, Police and Fire Departments, and Municipal Court.

Sweet Hour of Prayer

Praying and Promoting the 2020 Census

Sweet Hour of Prayer

The Macon County Ministers Council convened for a “Sweet Hour of Prayer” via Zoom recently. Prayers were spoken for the City, County, and the Nation. Each participant encouraged everyone to self-respond to the 2020 Census. Dr. John H. Curry Jr., Pastor of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church, hosted the event. Rev. KG Jones, Pastor of Bethel Baptist Church, and President of the Council indicated that the group had worked tirelessly on several committees to promote the 2020 Census.

Internet Access Offered in Hard To Count Communities in Wilcox County

The Freedom Quilting Bee and Souls Grown Deep (SGD) recently collaborated to provide internet access service to the community of Gee’s Bend and Alberta. Census 2020 completion was included in this project to increase self-response rates in the area.
